Steve Rivera Music

Steve Rivera's first general distribution recording, DIVIDING THE DARKNESS, has already wowed the critics "A Remarkable New Talent in Contemporary Piano Music Emerges".

Recorded at the famous Imaginary Road Studios in rural Vermont and helmed by producers Will Ackerman and Tom Eaton (Eaton also mixed and mastered the album), Steve Rivera's Dividing the Darkness is a stellar "true" debut (his first album was never commercially released), showcasing Rivera's deft touch on the ivories, his versatile composing style, and his talent at playing a variety of piano music with uncommon grace and ease.
